AUSTRALIAN OPEN

KIDS BALLPARK

The AO Ballpark is the ultimate family experience at the Australian Open. A mini theme park with a huge array of adventurous activities, stage shows, and roving entertainment will provide endless fun for kids and families.

In a brand-new location for 2020, kids and parents can also pick up a racquet and play tennis on the clay courts.

In 2019 there was a range of activities kids can enjoy, such as 55 metre water slide, rock climbing wall, Go karts, Australia's Ninja Warrior course and ANZ hot shot tennis. 2020 will see some old favourites returning as well as some new and exciting kids fun!

Free activities onsite with a Ground Pass or Arena ticket
$5.00 Kids Ground Pass (3-14yrs)

AUSTRALIAN OPEN

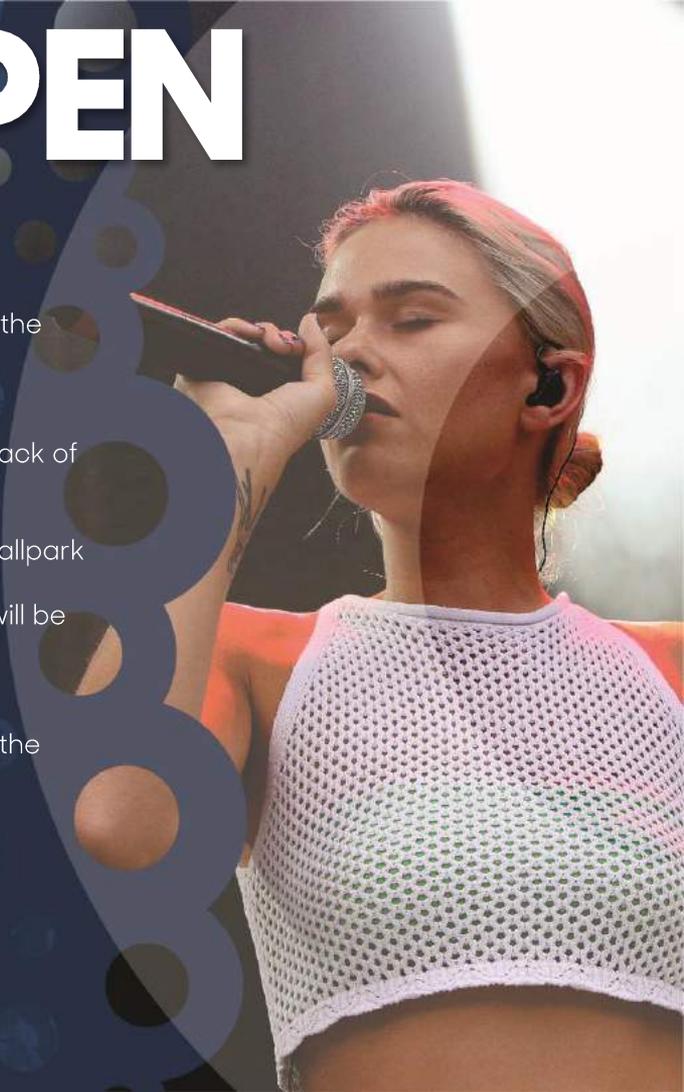

LIVE STAGE

The Australian Open's 15-day music festival will be back for AO2020 with a line-up hotter than the January ground temperature at Rod Laver Arena

The Australian Open will bring back its powerhouse concert series next summer. The Australian Open's tennis stars might be hot, but the AO Live Stage line-up is hotter with a stack of big musos taking part in the concert series.

In AO2019 we saw the likes of UK R'n'B artist Craig David as well as Angus and Julia Stone, Jet, Ballpark Music, Birds of Tokyo, the Teskey Brothers, Bastille, You Am I, Dean Lewis and Conrad Sewell. No doubt AO2020 will have another full list of local and international artists, full list for AO2020 will be released 1st of December 2020.

The AO Live Stage concert series runs for 15 days (the length of the Australian Open). You will require a ticket to the Australian Open to enter, but with ground passes starting at $49 the concert is a very economical way to see your favourite artists live.
